

Image not found or type unknown

Bolt: Worth Fighting For

Publish Date:

June 2016

---

“One bloke who sticks his head up is Andrew Bolt...writing with clarity and conviction.” – Alan Jones, 2GB.

Andrew Bolt is Australia’s most prominent and controversial commentator.

In this second book of columns and reflections, Bolt is again in the front lines of our most urgent political and social debates, from Islam and immigration to the green movement and the rise of the slacktivists. But he also reveals his more personal side – the experiences that have shaped his values and love for this country.

For some this book is ammunition. For others it’s fair warning. But for everyone it’s a test of their own values – and the reasons they hold them.

Bolt’s columns are published nationally in News Corp newspapers, including Melbourne’s Herald Sun, Sydney’s Daily Telegraph and Brisbane’s Courier Mail. He also runs Australia’s most-read

Institute Of Public Affairs
Visit the IPA online: ipa.org.au

political blog and hosts two weeknight shows – The Bolt Report on Sky News and a national Macquarie Radio show with Steve Price.

From the author of Still Not Sorry.

You can obtain your own copy of this publication by contacting the Institute of Public Affairs on 03 9600 4744.

BOLT
WORTH
FIGHTING FOR
Insights & Reflections

