

Religious Freedom Review

Publish Date:

November 2017

---

“Section 18C must be included in any review of religious freedoms,” said Morgan Begg, research fellow at the free market think tank the Institute of Public Affairs.

The Coalition government today announced that it has agreed to appoint an expert panel to review to examine whether Australian law adequately protects the human right to religious freedom.

“You can’t have freedom of religion in Australia until laws like section 18C are repealed.”

“Freedom of speech is at the heart of freedom of religion. You can’t live with a religious worldview if you don’t also have the freedom to express that worldview without threat of legal restriction.”

“Laws like section 18C and similar state laws have a chilling effect on the freedom of speech of all Australians, including religious Australians.”

Institute Of Public Affairs
Visit the IPA online: ipa.org.au

“Any discussion of religious freedom must start with the repeal of laws like section 18C,” said Mr Begg.

Download the media release here

For media and comment: Evan Mulholland, Media and Communications Manager, on 0405 140 780, or at emulholland@ipa.org.au

(Image: The Sydney Morning Herald)