

Tell me something I don't know ▶

◀ Back

At school, you are probably more likely to be taught that a dodecahedron has 10 sides than the right of everyone in Australia and around the world to equality!

At the moment, human rights education is not compulsory in our schools. Even though it helps build respect and understanding, reduces bullying and students perform better.

0 comments

Dig deeper